

YOU

INTERIORS SPECIAL

October 17 2009

With the credit crunch in full swing, staying in is the new going out and staying put is the new moving house! You readers have always devoted a great deal of time and energy to their homes and now is no exception.

YOU readers are always looking for new ideas to improve their living environment - both inside and out and they will be looking to YOU magazine for many of their ideas.

Our October 17th Living special will focus on kitchens and bathrooms, as always taking a practical, affordable approach, showing readers how to put together this season's looks and styles and create real room transformations.

Copy deadline October 11

Don't miss the opportunity to showcase your product in a relevant and stylish environment.
